

Privacy Policy for Sheralven.com

The privacy of our visitors to Sheralven.com is important to us.

At Sheralven.com, we recognize that the privacy of your personal information is important. Here you will find information explaining what types of personal information we receive and collect from you when you visit and use Sheralven.com, as well as how we safeguard your information. Your personal information is never sold to third parties.

Types of Information Collected:

We may collect information needed to contact you after your visit to our site. Information may also be retained for the usage of analyzing and supporting the use of our website. Personal information collected for these purposes are as follows, including but not limited to: name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, purchase information.

Log Files:

As with most other websites, data contained in log files is collected for usage. Information found in the aforementioned logs include your IP (internet protocol) address, your ISP (internet service provider- such as America Online, or Verizon Fios), the browser used to visit our site (such as Internet Explorer or Safari), the timestamp from your visit and which pages you visited throughout the entire site.

Cookies and Web Beacons:

We do use cookies (very minute text files which are stored on your computer and record specific preferences) to store certain information such as your personal preferences, for example, when you visit our site. This may include the showing of a popup advertisement during your visit, or the ability to login to some additional features such as forum posting or comment reading.

We also use third party advertisements on Sheralven.com to support our site. Some of these advertisers may use different forms of technology, such as cookies and web beacons, when they advertise within our site. Doing so will also send these advertisers information including your IP address, your ISP, the browser you used to visit the site, and in some cases, whether you have any form of Flash installed on your computer. These practices are generally used for geotargeting (showing regional ads on the website) purposes, or showing specific ads related to the sites you have previously visited.

You do however, have the option to disable or selectively turn off our cookies or third party cookies in your internet browser settings, or by managing preferences in external programs such as Norton Internet Security. However, this may affect the level of interaction you are able to access with our website as well as other website visits. Such circumstances include but are not limited to; the inability to login to services or programs or inability to post in forums or discussion threads.

Your Consent:

By using Sheralven.com, you agree to this Privacy Statement. This Statement supersedes and previously existing statement. We may alter our Privacy Statement at any time by posting a new version on this page, which is the responsibility of the consumer to review frequently.
